

Maine Septic & Pumping has teamed up with Presby Environmental Inc. to bring you two live training classes for ENVIROFIN® coming up on Tuesday, April 4th in Brewer & Wednesday, April 5th in Saco both classes have registration at 8:30am and will run from 9am-3pm. The classes are provided at no charge we just request that you register before March 31st so we may have an accurate lunch count.

It's an opportunity to learn more about the design and installation of Presby Environmental's newest tool for the septic system tool box "EnviroFin®"!

We have been informed that the Construction Showcase of Maine usually held at the Civic Center in Augusta, Maine in April was cancelled this year so we teamed up with Presby Environmental to make this training available to all of you.

If you or your associates would like to attend one of these classes you must reserve a seat. To do so, each person must fill out our online registration form: <http://maineseptic.com/training/registration-2/> select the class you wish to attend or call us at 207-782-5940 or email kemmi@maineseptic.com.

Dennis Fogg from Presby Environmental will be conducting the training. All attendees will be provided lunch and become certified to design, install or inspect this system.

Once you have completed the training seminar you will receive a certificate via email. If you are a Site Evaluator or Installer your name will be included on our reference list given to inquiring customers (unless you specify otherwise).

- 4 PDHs will be available for LPI's, CEO's, Site Evaluators & Installers who complete this class.

Register now to save your spot! (click link provided) <http://maineseptic.com/training/registration-2/>
